

The one item that has changed my life:
My adopted puppy, Bubbles.

I'd like to learn to:
Say "no" and relax more.

I still can't get the hang of:
Asking for help.

I wish I'd known: That my parents were always right.

24/7 with

Kitsy Rose
PR Maven and Publicist
Atlanta, GA

My family:
They are my support system and my biggest fans. Though mom still rearranges everything in my house every time she comes to visit...

My work:
Is my passion. I'm so lucky to do what I do and represent the people and places that I do.

My favorite possession:
My champagne pendant necklace by Mickey Lynn. It was delivered wrapped around a bottle of Veuve Cliquot. I'm a bit of a champagne junkie.

My first job:
A sales girl in the lingerie department of Burdines in Coconut Grove, Florida.

Something most people don't know about me:
I MUST touch the right side of the airplane every time before walking on to the flight.

If I were a superheroine, I would be: Wonder Woman—that outfit is hot!

The smartest woman I know: My mom; she had me stuffing goodie bags and attending special events at the age of nine. She must have seen into my future.

What are you most vain about?
The way my house looks when I have company over.

Whose diary would you most like to read?
An ex-boyfriend or two...

I am most proud of:
The company that I keep...I could not ask for better friends.

Photo by Alex Martinez